CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - The Institution ensures effective curriculum delivery through a well planned and documented process

The IQAC cell at the college creates a mission statement for the delivery and implementation of the curriculum, which is subsequently distributed to the faculty. There were several new and creative ways that the department and kids' teachers used to teach during the pandemic lockdown. The college has formed an Academic Planning Committee within the IQAC, which organizes all academic, co-curricular, and extra-curricular events well in advance of their scheduled implementation. Every aspect of college teaching, learning, and assessment is documented in the college journal. College authorities and department heads read and comment on the journal's articles. This gives educators a clear picture of what and how the material should be presented. When it comes to teaching and learning, cutting-edge infrastructure, such as smart classrooms, can help the majority of students. This session helps students have a deeper knowledge of both the subject topic and the best practices for teaching it so that they are better prepared for the course. In order to enable academics to connect with students, mentors, and buddies, Google Classroom, and a WhatsApp group for students and their parents were formed.

1.1.2 - The institution adheres to the academic calendar including for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)

For the school, the preparation of the 'Academic Calendar' is essential. The Steps: Putting together the academic calendar falls to an academic calendar committee. The committee is formed by the IQAC coordinator, and it is comprised of one teacher. all of the divisions In June, the IQAC coordinator directs the production of the academic calendar. There are the following chapters in the book: An institution's academic calendar serves as a comprehensive record of all of the institution's activities – academic, co-curricular, extracurricular, and otherwise. Plan and participate in cultural events as well as NSS activities, Social Extension Activities (SEAs), and student development programs. It includes dates for administrative and evaluative activities, such as the central evaluation program and the verification of departmental dead stock.

The academic calendar is distributed to all department heads after it has been established so that each department may plan its activities accordingly. The academic calendar for the department is put together by the head of the department and the staves. The departmental calendar contains the proposed timetable for each department. It includes just those activities performed by a certain division. As a result, when planned and implemented correctly, the academic calendar helps students plan their overall growth while also decreasing the number of activities and events to which they are exposed.

1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment

1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

Co-curricular and extracurricular activities are terms used to describe activities that take place outside of the classroom. In the college's curriculum, students learn about professional ethics, gender, human values, the environment, and sustainability. In reality, the curriculum that the college must follow is set by the university. This is not to say that the institution does not try to address the problems listed above. As an example, these are a few of the actions taken:

Events, such as folk dancing competitions and hemoglobin checkup camps, are held for female and female pupils, respectively. Among the programs offered by the Committee on Women's Anti-Hazard and Internal Complaints is one on women's empowerment, women's laws, and Women's Day. A lot of work has been done by our college's N.S.S. unit to further various outreach programs, both on campus and in adopted communities.

N.S.S. supports environmental protection through tree-planting and other sustainable development projects. During the special camps, the N.S.S. unit takes part in a variety of activities in the nearby communities. The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan is something in which the college has participated.

It is the goal of NSS and other non-profit or government institutions to help students develop a scientific mindset and a social conscience through the delivery of lectures, tests, essays, and other educational materials. Camps for health and hygiene education, medical check-ups, and a blood donation drive are all part of the program.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Advanced and slow learners will benefit from special programs.

The college offers an orientation event for parents and students every year at the commencement of the new batch's curriculum. The program will assist students and parents by allowing them to get better familiar with the institution, its curricular and co-curricular activities, facilities, rules and regulations, and so on.

Advanced students:

Internal assessments, university examinations, and student interaction in the classroom are used to identify high-performing pupils. Apart from the standard mini and major projects, students are encouraged to do micro-projects in the second year to develop research focus and practical awareness. Slow students:

The Institute follows the academic counseling procedure for students. The Principal meets with the parents and the student during the admissions process to assess their needs and goals. Students are also allocated to a faculty for counseling over the course of the study group. The College has a mechanism in place to keep parents informed about their children's grades and attendance. A group of 20 students is allocated to a faculty as mentors, and the corresponding mentor is responsible for the student's personal and academic needs.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The College places a great deal of emphasis on the student's overall growth. A designated Guardian Faculty Member serves as a mentor and monitors the student's attendance and general progress. Events like Counseling Day and Open House Sessions are also offered at the institution for students' academic, professional, and holistic growth. Additionally, there are Letters to Parents and Parent-Teacher Meetings. In today's competitive world, students are overburdened with academic requirements, parental expectations, and peer pressures. Therefore, the College has taken the initiative to implement a distinct monitoring and mentoring plan to assist them in dealing with these issues effectively. For example, we have GFM (Guardian Faculty Member), Parent Teacher Meetups, Counseling, and Open House Sessions, all of which are meticulously documented through reports.

An impact study is carried out in order to better grasp the main concerns of the pupils. Faculty members can take on the role of second parents for a select group of students, obtaining the title of Guardian Faculty Member in the process (GFM). Each faculty, they are given a group of 20 students to work with at the beginning of each academic year; they are responsible for helping them grow as individuals and in their careers.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process. Write description in maximum of 200 words

Students in the 2020-21 covid pandemic will be able to utilize ICT tools supplied by the college for teaching-learning such as a YouTube channel, wifi, Google courses, Zoom lessons, online notes laptops, or PCs. The college's infrastructure is acceptable, and its classrooms and labs are top-notch. The institution has six LCD classrooms and one "smart classroom" with a carpeted surface of 73 square meters. Students and faculty have access to enough classrooms, computer laboratories, and internet labs, according to the school's governing council. The college has two classrooms equipped with Wi-Fi and 146 sqm of the carpet surface. In the computer lab, students have access to more than sixty computers that are all connected to the internet. The carpet area in the computer lab is 213 square meters. The carpeted surface of the lecture hall is approximately 114 square feet. Learning materials, such as e-journals, are readily available at the library. Students now have access to a wide range of new books on a variety of topics.

In the T&P cell, training and placement drives can be organized. The Institute's Industry Interaction Cell organizes site visits and provides support to students preparing for industrial projects at the end of their studies.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Process of Assessment and Evaluation

There are two levels to this system.

University and Institute are two distinct entities. SPPU Pune administers a variety of exams to assess students. There are affiliating university assessment examinations for the first and second years, in-semester tests for the third and final years, Pr/Or exams, and end-semester exams for all. The semester's primary written test takes place at the end of the semester. The institute must ensure that the students are prepared to take these exams. As a result, all sorts of assessments (objective and subjective) are arranged before each semester begins. Term work requirements are also planned well in advance to boost students' study and participation in extracurricular activities. Rear exams are a collection of internal assessment procedures developed by the institute.

Reforms to university evaluation:

The CEO and the Examination Committee plan and carry out the evaluation process, which is constantly monitored. In weekly HOD meetings, the Principal also assesses progress. Reform of internal evaluation

Internal examinations are efficiently conducted by the exam coordinator, and students may see their success through grades, which are also provided to the university for performance review.

Institute-level transparency initiatives:

Students are informed of their basic eligibility for the evaluation process via the university website, notice boards, and class counseling.

On the notice board and on the institution's website, the institute announces the evaluation procedure and accompanying paperwork. For each topic, two internal examiners are assigned to review the final internal marks. The Principal checks all students' internal grades at the conclusion of each semester. Procedure for submitting an application for the supply of photocopies of assessed answer books:

1. Only the examinee fills up and signs the application form.
2. The examinee must submit the application, together with the required costs, within ten days.

The custodian ensures that the answer papers arrive at the Centre for Assessment of Papers (CAP) on time and in compliance with all University safety regulations. Administrative and academic personnel make up the committee. This is a successful example of everyone's participation.

6.4 - Financial Management and Resource Mobilization

6.4.1 - Institution conducts internal and external financial audits regularly Enumerate the various internal and external financial audits carried out during the year with the mechanism for settling audit objections within a maximum of 200 words

Internal auditing is carried out by a team led by the Deputy Registrar who has been nominated. The internal audit examines the implementation of the approved budget, fees collected, total costs, outstanding receivables, and payments, among other things. Internal audits are conducted twice a year, in October (for the months of April to September) and April (for the months of April to September) (for the period of October to March). The following are the primary Internal Audit verification parameters:

1. To check tally entries on bank and cash vouchers.
2. Fee reconciliation and verification of fees received in Tally entries.
3. To verify salary musters with Provident Fund, Professional Tax, and Income Tax deductions and payments.
4. External audit of bank reconciliation statements:

According to the rules of the Trust Registration Act, the College's finances must be audited by a Chartered Accountant. Management appoints external auditors to conduct this financial

6.4.3 - Institutional strategies for mobilization of funds and the optimal utilization of resources

Sidhant College of Management Studies is a self-supporting college that relies on student fees to fund its operations. The deficit is controlled by borrowing money from the parent's trust. Colleges get additional cash from funding bodies such as BCUD through the QIP program (Quality Improvement Program). These monies are used for laboratory development and research. The institute has a well-defined framework in place to ensure that available financial resources are used effectively and efficiently to improve academic operations and infrastructure.

Mobilization of Funds: Students put their regular fees straight into the college's bank account.

The compensation of teaching and non-teaching employees is given first priority in the use of resources. Then there are expenditures for student development, academics, and instruction. The administrative and other costs are then taken care of. Following that, infrastructure maintenance and development are handled. Every year, the college budget is produced by the principal with the assistance of an accountant, taking into consideration both regular and non-recurring expenses. As a result, all administrative and academic heads are being asked to provide the necessary budget for the coming fiscal year. Additionally, all coordinators of various cells, such as the Exam Cell, T&P Cell, and so on, have been asked to submit their budgets to the Principal. The college's Local Managing Committee (LMC/CDC) and Governing Body make all important financial decisions (GB). It is supplied as and when urgent needs occur, after approval from the trust office.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

The institution's performance in one area that is separate from its mission, focus, and the main impetus

Sidhant College of Management Studies is unique in that it creates a 'holding environment,' or a psychological space that is both safe and unpleasant, for its teachers and students. In order for us to thrive, we need a safe place where we can develop and blossom, a nurturing place where we can thrive. 'Uncomfortable' because it encourages 'disruptive innovation' in the same way.

Such an atmosphere is a natural outcome of the college community's assets, which include:

Maintaining fidelity to its core ideals has laid out the path for its future development. An excellent Human Resource Management system to guarantee a shared vision, a cohesive team, and an engaging work culture' is provided by this software. There are many programs for instructors and students to enhance their personal as well as professional growth. All of its development ambitions will be implemented quickly thanks to its well-oiled governance structure and administrative systems. Its constant efforts to find the right balance between expansion and sustainability. When it comes to caring for its beautiful campus and preserving its natural splendor, it has a clear and unwavering dedication to the preservation of biodiversity, eco-awareness, and appreciation for the gifts of nature.

Part B

CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - The Institution ensures effective curriculum delivery through a well planned and documented process

The IQAC cell at the college creates a mission statement for the delivery and implementation of the curriculum, which is subsequently distributed to the faculty. There were several new and creative ways that the department and kids' teachers used to teach during the pandemic lockdown. The college has formed an Academic Planning Committee within the IQAC, which organizes all academic, co-curricular, and extra-curricular events well in advance of their scheduled implementation. Every aspect of college teaching, learning, and assessment is documented in the college journal. College authorities and department heads read and comment on the journal's articles. This gives educators a clear picture of what and how the material should be presented. When it comes to teaching and learning, cutting-edge infrastructure, such as smart classrooms, can help the majority of students. This session helps students have a deeper knowledge of both the subject topic and the best practices for teaching it so that they are better prepared for the course. In order to enable academics to connect with students, mentors, and buddies, Google Classroom, and a WhatsApp group for students and their parents were formed.

For the school, the preparation of the 'Academic Calendar' is essential. The Steps: Putting together the academic calendar falls to an academic calendar committee. The committee is formed by the IQAC coordinator, and it is comprised of one teacher. all of the divisions In June, the IQAC coordinator directs the production of the academic calendar. There are the following chapters in the book: An institution's academic calendar serves as a comprehensive record of all of the institution's activities – academic, co-curricular, extracurricular, and otherwise. Plan and participate in cultural events as well as NSS activities, Social Extension Activities (SEAs), and student development programs. It includes dates for administrative and evaluative activities, such as the central evaluation program and the verification of departmental dead stock.

The academic calendar is distributed to all department heads after it has been established so that each department may plan its activities accordingly. The academic calendar for the department is put together by the head of the department and the staves. The departmental calendar contains the proposed timetable for each department. It includes just those activities performed by a certain division. As a result, when planned and implemented correctly, the academic calendar helps students plan their overall growth while also decreasing the number of activities and events to which they are exposed.

1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment

1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

Co-curricular and extracurricular activities are terms used to describe activities that take place outside of the classroom. In the college's curriculum, students learn about professional ethics, gender, human values, the environment, and sustainability. In reality, the curriculum that the college must follow is set by the university. This is not to say that the institution does not try to address the problems listed above. As an example, these are a few of the actions taken:

Events, such as folk dancing competitions and hemoglobin checkup camps, are held for female and female pupils, respectively. Among the programs offered by the Committee on Women's Anti-Hazard and Internal Complaints is one on women's empowerment, women's laws, and Women's Day. A lot of work has been done by our college's N.S.S. unit to further various outreach programs, both on campus and in adopted communities.

N.S.S. supports environmental protection through tree-planting and other sustainable development projects. During the special camps, the N.S.S. unit takes part in a variety of activities in the nearby communities. The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan is something in which the college has participated.

It is the goal of NSS and other non-profit or government institutions to help students develop a scientific mindset and a social conscience through the delivery of lectures, tests, essays, and other educational materials. Camps for health and hygiene education, medical check-ups, and a blood donation drive are all part of the program.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Advanced and slow learners will benefit from special programs.

The college offers an orientation event for parents and students every year at the commencement of the new batch's curriculum. The program will assist students and parents by allowing them to get better familiar with the institution, its curricular and co-curricular activities, facilities, rules and regulations, and so on.

Advanced students:

Internal assessments, university examinations, and student interaction in the classroom are used to identify high-performing pupils. Apart from the standard mini and major projects, students are encouraged to do micro-projects in the second year to develop research focus and practical awareness.

Slow students:

The Institute follows the academic counseling procedure for students. The Principal meets with the parents and the student during the admissions process to assess their needs and goals. Students are also allocated to a faculty for counseling over the course of the study group. The College has a mechanism in place to keep parents informed about their children's grades and attendance. A group of 20 students is allocated to a faculty as mentors, and the corresponding mentor is responsible for the student's personal and academic needs.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The College places a great deal of emphasis on the student's overall growth. A designated Guardian Faculty Member serves as a mentor and monitors the student's attendance and general progress. Events like Counseling Day and Open House Sessions are also offered at the institution for students' academic, professional, and holistic growth. Additionally, there are Letters to Parents and Parent-Teacher Meetings. In today's competitive world, students are overburdened with academic requirements, parental expectations, and peer pressures. Therefore, the College has taken the initiative to implement a distinct monitoring and mentoring plan to assist them in dealing with these issues effectively. For example, we have GFM (Guardian Faculty Member), Parent Teacher Meetups, Counseling, and Open House Sessions, all of which are meticulously documented through reports.

An impact study is carried out in order to better grasp the main concerns of the pupils. Faculty members can take on the role of second parents for a select group of students, obtaining the title of Guardian Faculty Member in the process (GFM). Each faculty, they are given a group of 20 students to work with at the beginning of each academic year; they are responsible for helping them grow as individuals and in their careers.

Students and faculty have access to enough classrooms, computer laboratories, and internet labs, according to the school's governing council. The college has two classrooms equipped with Wi-Fi and 146 sqm of the carpet surface. In the computer lab, students have access to more than sixty computers that are all connected to the internet. The carpet area in the computer lab is 213 square meters. The carpeted surface of the lecture hall is approximately 114 square feet. Learning materials, such as e-journals, are readily available at the library. Students now have access to a wide range of new books on a variety of topics.

In the T&P cell, training and placement drives can be organized. The Institute's Industry Interaction Cell organizes site visits and provides support to students preparing for industrial projects at the end of their studies.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Process of Assessment and Evaluation

There are two levels to this system.

University and Institute are two distinct entities. SPPU Pune administers a variety of exams to assess students. There are affiliating university assessment examinations for the first and second years, in-semester tests for the third and final years, Pr/Or exams, and end-semester exams for all. The semester's primary written test takes place at the end of the semester. The institute must ensure that the students are prepared to take these exams. As a result, all sorts of assessments (objective and subjective) are arranged before each semester begins. Term work requirements are also planned well in advance to boost students' study and participation in extracurricular activities. Rear exams are a collection of internal assessment procedures developed by the institute.

Reforms to university evaluation:

The CEO and the Examination Committee plan and carry out the evaluation process, which is constantly monitored. In weekly HOD meetings, the Principal also assesses progress. Reform of internal evaluation

Internal examinations are efficiently conducted by the exam coordinator, and students may see their success through grades, which are also provided to the university for performance review.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time-bound and efficient

Institute-level transparency initiatives:

Students are informed of their basic eligibility for the evaluation process via the university website, notice boards, and class counseling.

On the notice board and on the institution's website, the institute announces the evaluation procedure and accompanying paperwork. This covers the distribution of grades and the schedule for internal and university evaluations. The criteria for allocating term work marks are also communicated by the institute through announcements and class counseling. Every month, a continuous evaluation report for all courses is shown in the corresponding laboratories. Staff meetings are held on a regular basis to discuss the evaluation process. For each topic, two internal examiners are assigned to review the final internal marks. The Principal checks all students' internal grades at the conclusion of each semester. Procedure for submitting an application for the supply of photocopies of assessed answer books:

1. Only the examinee fills up and signs the application form.

2. The examinee must submit the application, together with the required costs, within ten days.

3. Students in University Departments must apply to the Controller of Examinations directly through the Head of the Department.

Autolib software tracks and circulates all of the library's materials. Useful features include Circulation; Cataloguing; Reports; Members; Search; and more. In addition, the software includes an OPAC (Online Public Access Catalog) that may be used by employees and students both in and out of the library. The OPAC has made it possible for library patrons to access comprehensive information about the library's collection, including books that have been checked out and those that have been returned, at their fingertips, which has saved them important time.

The college library offers an extensive collection of books, periodicals, magazines, newspapers, and CDs. It now has 4852 books, 36 printed nationals, and 23 electronic periodicals. The Institute library offers a variety of resources to students, faculty, and staff, including course syllabi, exam questions, project reports, open stack access, a reading area, and newspaper clippings. A reading room with 150 seats and a digital library comprise the Institute's library's 645 square meters. There is a Digital Library in the college library where students may download e-journals and articles, as well as numerous paid and free databases. There are five Internet-

6.4.3 - Institutional strategies for mobilization of funds and the optimal utilization of resources

Sidhant College of Management Studies is a self-supporting college that relies on student fees to fund its operations. The deficit is controlled by borrowing money from the parent's trust. Colleges get additional cash from funding bodies such as BCUD through the QIP program (Quality Improvement Program). These monies are used for laboratory development and research. The institute has a well-defined framework in place to ensure that available financial resources are used effectively and efficiently to improve academic operations and infrastructure.

Mobilization of Funds: Students put their regular fees straight into the college's bank account.

The compensation of teaching and non-teaching employees is given first priority in the use of resources. Then there are expenditures for student development, academics, and instruction. The administrative and other costs are then taken care of. Following that, infrastructure maintenance and development are handled. Every year, the college budget is produced by the principal with the assistance of an accountant, taking into consideration both regular and non-recurring expenses. As a result, all administrative and academic heads are being asked to provide the necessary budget for the coming fiscal year. Additionally, all coordinators of various cells, such as the Exam Cell, T&P Cell, and so on, have been asked to submit their budgets to the Principal. The college's Local Managing Committee (LMC/CDC) and Governing Body make all important financial decisions (GB). It is supplied as and when urgent needs occur, after approval from the trust office.

Two NAAC Formatted Best Practices-

Students from all walks of life, from the most disadvantaged to the wealthiest, have benefited from our school's transformative and uplifting programs. "Growing Within" is one of our college's best practices. Student-centered, self-directed teaching can be achieved by activities like breathing exercises or intensive physical activity, such as lectures by specialists in certain subjects.

Principles of Good Practice 1

The camp's name is Blood Donation.

Every time they donate, donors are told that their blood cells are being renewed, which ensures that the blood they donate is always fresh and young. T

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

The institution's performance in one area that is separate from its mission, focus, and the main impetus

Sidhant College of Management Studies is unique in that it creates a 'holding environment,' or a psychological space that is both safe and unpleasant, for its teachers and students. In order for us to thrive, we need a safe place where we can develop and blossom, a nurturing place where we can thrive. 'Uncomfortable' because it encourages 'disruptive innovation' in the same way.

Such an atmosphere is a natural outcome of the college community's assets, which include:

Maintaining fidelity to its core ideals has laid out the path for its future development. An excellent Human Resource Management system to guarantee a shared vision, a cohesive team, and an engaging work culture' is provided by this software. There are many programs for instructors and students to enhance their personal as well as professional growth. All of its development ambitions will be implemented quickly thanks to its well-oiled governance structure and administrative systems. Its constant efforts to find the right balance between expansion and sustainability. When it comes to caring for its beautiful campus and preserving its natural splendor, it has a clear and unwavering dedication to the preservation of biodiversity, eco-awareness, and appreciation for the gifts of nature.

a strategy for the following academic year

Our college is considering adding additional majors and minors, such as B.A., B.Com, M.Com, and PGDBM. Students' research will be improved as a result of the college's efforts. Students at the Institute will be taught how to strengthen their online communication in order to satisfy this demand from the business.

Program for Personality Enhancement

For a student's all-around growth, communication and other soft skills are essential. They have a significant impact on the job prospects of pupils.
